This code is definitely the abstract factory creational pattern. Cf is the abstract factory, and AfricaF and AmericaF are the concrete factories. They both can instantiate the related (but separate) groupings of Herbivore and Carnivore that they choose, thereby supporting different "look and feel standards". Each factory can only instantiate their own family of products, so they cannot be mixed together accidently.